

The image displays a 12x12 grid of 144 hexagonal tiles. Each tile contains a pattern of black dots. The patterns are variations of a central 3x3 dot arrangement, with some tiles showing different dot counts or positions. The patterns are arranged in a way that suggests a sequence or a set of related configurations.